

Call for 2011 Session Speakers

SFFMA Attendee,

As you are witnessing we have a great group of session topics and speakers providing you with invaluable information. You too can become one of our 2011 SFFMA 135th Annual Training Conference and Convention session speakers. Certainly you have that “burning” topic you would like to pass on to your fellow fire and EMS attendees. Speak up! Give us what you’ve got. Become a 2011 speaker. Or entice your fellow fire & EMS to speak at a session.

All we ask is that your session is approximately 1 hr. 45 minutes and that your topic fits one of these session tracks: Certification or Reporting, Public Education, Leadership, EMS, Safety, or it may fit into our General track.

For the vendors we have the Ala-Carte track of which you may present on any fire/EMS related topic and you may discuss your product(s), prices, and product comparisons. The session needs to be educational with secondary information on your products/services.

At the last SFFMA survey the members overwhelmingly spoke up that they wanted more training, and shorter sessions (no more or less 1-2 day NFA type classes). We have given you this in 2009 and 2010 but need your help in ensuring the training success at future SFFMA conventions.

If you would like to be a 2011 session speaker (or team up with others) please provide the following information and drop this form at the Registration Desk, or email your intent to Scott Matthews at smatthews@sffma.org (if email please include the following information)

 Your intent to present a session is not binding, nor a guarantee that you will be selected ***
