SFFMA Mission: Promote, Unify, Represent, and Educate the Fire Service of Texas.

About SFFMA: The SFFMA is one of the largest trade associations in Texas. The 135 year old organization is the oldest and the largest fire and EMS service association in the state. Membership includes 1200 fire, EMS and International departments, 21,000+ individual members, and 80 industrial fire brigades. The cornerstone of the organization is the Certification Program for firefighters, which encourages training, education and certification for all emergency responders. The SFFMA founded and now supports and sponsors the world's largest fire training school, at Texas A&M University, providing instructors and professional service on the TEEX Fire School's Advisory Board. In addition, the association is extremely active in its legislative efforts that affect the fire service of Texas. For more information, visit www.sffma.org
